The construction is simple and n-tu al, all the extraneous lumber in the body of the instrument is dispensed with ; the sound boards are merely two arched planks of thin wood, like the front and back of a violin; the strings are attached to a strong Iron frame, which is separated and entirely independ at of the case, thereby dispensing with the old harp form of stringing, by substituting straight bridges, preserving at the same time the Over Etrung Eass, of which Mr Datags is the Inventor. By these improvements we gain much more vibratory power, at the same time preserving all its purity and richness of tone. They have received the highest testimowials from the Press, and all the principal artists in the country,
